Baltimore, Md.. June 29. - Wearied with their second struggle, lasting practically all night, the leaders and main body of delegates were late in making their appearance at the main centers of activity this morning, and it was well toward noon before the work of consultation, conference and caucus was in full swing. "early birds," among whom was Chairman James, again were sanguine that a decisive ballot would be reached today, and that the convention would conclude its labors tonight. Always the evodus from Baltimore has begun, and placards at every hand announced special trains carrying away large parties which had come to see a candidate chosen. Clark Not Certain Winner. Clark wins he must win quickly. continued deadlock was the one thing which might destroy the commanding lead he already had established.

The problem before the Clark forces was twofold: First, to hold their present strength intact against defections, and second, to add 176½ votes to his 549 shown on the twelfth ballot to give him the necessary two-thirds majority.

The first problem was not a menacing one but it had its difficulties. The Fourteen ballots had been taken up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, and no candidate up to that time had received the two-thirds necessary to nominate. It had been predicted that the thirteenth ballot, the first one taken today, would bring some radical changes, but aside from a split off from Arizona, formerly solid for Clark, that gave Wilson a gain of one, another gain at Clark's expense from Connecticut, at Clark's expense, a Wilson gain stick by Champ Clark for a total of ten ballots was reported early today, and this information steeled the determination of the Wilson, Harmon and Underwood leaders to stand with untichented the hope that after the nineteenth ballot New York would desert Clark and throw their support somewhere else. St. Paul, Minn., June 29 .- (Special to The Herald.-Growing willows on Minnesota's swamp land to be used by Indians in making baskets and for further supplying the basket trade, is recommended by Raphael Zon, in charge of investigative work of the United States forest service, according to a report published In the June number of The North Woods, the state forest service's booklet. Mr. Zon recently made a trip to Cloquet, Minn., to look over the experiment station, and while there saw some of the unused swamp land. 'The abundance of low lying land which may be too wet for agricul-tural crops," Mr. Zon says, "offers a good opportunity for using this land for growing basket willows, for which there is always a market. classes of people. Pianos and player-pianos cannot be quickly to establish a musical house in Duluth, we studied the situation, seeking the "best." Our aim, our ambition was to handle only those particular instruments which in their excellence, towered above all others, and which would immediately identify us as the leading musical house in all this part of Minnesota. We had to have, we demanded, prestige right from the start, and we sought the representative in each type of instrument which would give us just that prestige.

It is only after long and exhaustive tests, both technical and musical, that they prove their worth.

We Found It

We found it in the Steinway, the acknowledged leader for more than half a centruy.

We found it in the product of the Aeolian company of New York, whose experience in the manufacture of player-pianos began years be-fore any other make became known. We found it in the Victor Victrola, one of the most important factors in the musical development of this generation.

Through the courtesy of Messrs. French & Bassett we shall remain until our permanent location is ready, in the old quarters in the French & Bassett building.

We Invite the Public of Duluth

To our ware rooms, where we will show in addition to the above mentioned lines, such well known makes as Mason & Hamlin, Kurtzmann, Regent and others.

FAKE NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIPTIONS

(TAKEN FROM THE MINNEOTA MASCOT.)

F YOU want to buy a map or a razor why don't you go to a place where they sell such things instead of subscribing for a paper you do not want and paying two or three prices for the map or the razor, and then not getting anything worth while? A publication should sell on its merits. All premiums are a fake—all newspaper contests a fraud. If there is one thing about the publishing business that the postal department is warranted in taking particular note of it is premiums and contests.

These things should be absolutely prohibited. No 50-cent paper that is forced to give away a

No 50-cent paper that is forced to give away a 25-cent razor to get a man to subscribe should be entitled to the second class privilege. It is probably all right for the government to carry newspapers at a loss but it should not be forced to carry razors and tin cans, with a ton or two of worse than blank paper attached, at a price much lower than the actual cost of transportation.

Why should newspapers be allowed to give premiums? Is there a single good reason why any newspaper should offer "something for nothing?"

Should newspapers not discourage that kind of a thing instead of using the deceptive decoy themselves?

If they want to give a premium let them reduce their subscription price to the extent of the premium.

A paper should sell on its merits and should not be tied to the tail of some premium.

We know of a number of papers that are holding their subscribers in line merely by and through the premium graft.

The postal department should prohibit all premiums in connection with newspapers. No person is a legitimate subscriber to a paper who takes that paper merely for the premium offered.

Such a subsciber is buying the premium not the paper.

THEN THERE IS THE CONTEST GRAFT.

Pianos, residences, thrashing machines, automobiles, horses, homesteads and trips around the world are being offered as premiums to the ones holding the lucky number, or selling the greatest number of subscriptions.

This is pure gambling.

Here the paper offers to give something for nothing. It goes into a class with the get-rich-quick bunch and holds out to its subscribers that some of them, at least, are going to get a handsome handout that will not cost them anything.

Most of newspaper contests are pure and simple lottery. The fact that each subscriber gets something for his money does not help things any for the fact remains that he is spending money that he would not spend were it not for this "special inducement."

There is no excuse for a newspaper contest either in ethics or business.

It is an admission of weakness, an attempt to force upon the public something that the public does not want.

The contest and the premium are a means whereby some publishers attempt to intoxicate the public and thus secure subscriptions while the mind of the victim is not acting normally.

The circulation thus secured for a publication is a stimlated circulation, a forced circulation, a circulation that has no genuine foundation and consequently has no value to the advertiser and but a momentary one for the publisher.

In nine cases out of ten the contest subscription is forced out of (or upon) the subscriber. He does not want the paper and does not read it. He has been "held up" by some friend who wanted to win a piano or a trip around the world and he has dug up and that is all there is to it.

These contests and premiums the postal department should prohibit. By so doing it would confer a lasting benefit upon all the people and it would induce publishers to put more value into their papers and less into pianos, razors and maps.

We look upon all contests as nothing less than a fraud. There is no excuse for them and among publishers who value the standing of their papers they should not be employed.

The time will come when the public will refuse to be taken in by contests and publishers who employ them will lose instead of gain by them.

In fact we think that they are now a losing proposition.
They stimulate circulation for a while but a circulation thus stimulated drops back and the "drop" is unpleasant and dis-

There is nothing that builds up a circulation on so solid and satisfactory a foundation as merit, and it is the only stimulant any publisher should allow himself to use.

In this connection we desire to quote from a paragraph in point from what we consider one of the best daily papers we are acquainted with, The Duluth Herald. It says:

"In 1890 The Herald had a circulation of 2,200 copies. In 1900 it was 10,392 copies. In 1905 it was 16,677 copies. In 1911 it was 27,020 copies. So much for the growth. It speaks for itself.

"But here is something of which The Herald is still prouder: This total of 27,020 is the largest circulation enjoyed by any newspaper in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities. It is the largest circulation in the state that has been gained without the use of premiums, contests, and other artificial stimulants. Therefore, since this circulation grew because people wanted The Herald and not because they wanted a dictionary, map, book, phonograph, plush album or what-not along with it—it is solid and substantial and it sticks. There is no other circulation just like it in Minnesota.

"This is highly gratifying because it shows that The Herald has gained exactly what it has sought. Its purpose is to publish a newspaper that newspaper readers will want to read. If the kind of newspaper it furnished would not attract readers without the bribery of premiums and the hold-up of 'popularity' contests and the like, then the effort must fail. The effort did not fail. Readers have come in steadily increasing numbers, and they are still coming. And The Herald is glad of this, and proud of it. It is not its custom to introduce eulogies of itself in these columns, but it is so well pleased with the showing made in the year just closed that, if it can be forgiven for this once, it desires to gloat over it."

Key With Underwood Men. The l'iderwood forces were looked on as playing an important part in the present critical stage of the ballot-ing. They were standing solidly, with no evidence of wavering during the early hours. But their 123 votes on the tweitth ballot made them in a sense the key to the Clark situation. for with them the Clark total would be augmented well along toward the necessary two-thirds. But at the Underwood headquarters there was not the slightest indication of directing the vote as a balance of power among the other candidates. The sole idea was to keep the Underwood force together in the-belief that it would gather strength from all quarters in case a break came from the candidates in the lead.

Trade for Speakership.

Reports were current early today that if Underwood would step uside for Clark the majority leader of the house would be named for the speakership. Clark supporters would not say whether these reports had any basis, but ad. mitted that the Underwood people now held the key to the situation. Information was forthcoming this morning that one of the leaders of the movement for Mr. Underwood in one of the Southern delegatins would urge that the time had come to turn Mr. Underwood's yets over to Mr. Clark on derwood's vote over to Mr. Ciark on the ground that the floor leader's chances were only slight, at the best, in the face of Mr. Bryan's opposition, and that the logical nominee at this hour was Speaker Clark. Whether the effort to swing the Underwood vote to

New York vote will never go to Wilson, and that Tammany hall would even prefer Bryan to the New Jersey governor. "Farmers' co-operative selling associations are numerous in this country, but co-operative buying associations between the people of the cities and towns are few. Why do not consumers buy directly from the farmers?"

As practiced in England co-operation reduces costs in two ways. First, the co-operative associations sell goods at as near actual cost as possible, and second, whatever profit is made on sales is divided among the stockholders who are the purchasers.

The last available figures showed a total of 1,430 separate co-operative societies in the United Kingdom, with a membership of something more than membership of something more than 2.000,000 families. The cash sales of these societies to their members, and only members are permitted to buy, amounted in 1908 to more than $600,-000,000.

1908 amounted to $13,500,000 on purchases in addition to $10,500,000 in dividends paid to the stockholders on their investment. Each purchaser must be a stockholder, the cost of the shares varying from $5 to $25. No person is limited to one share, but the number of shares owned by one person or family is limited to prevent the control from getting out of the hands of the actual buyers.

"In those few words, Miss Anne E. Shelland, county superintendent of schools of Koochiching county, gives her philisophy of live and labor. Judging from physical appearance, Miss Shelland is far from death, but if her work had made inroads on her health, she would have kept on just the same until forced to desist by the necessity of thinking of herself, rather than of Capable beyond most county school superintendents in the routine of her office, tendents in the routine of her office, she has the additional ability to see beyond the narrow limits prescribed by law. She has an intimate knowledge of the needs of the settler in the timber country. She has a broad conception of the duty of those, who recognize those needs, to endeavor to supply them. Her work in the routine of the county superintendent's office is excellent. Her work in the broader field of humanitarian effort is marvelous.

In Miss Shelland's opinion, consolidated schools are the cure-all for the educationand social needs of the people of the north woods. Correlated to consolidated schools is good roads.

AS IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

Loyal Taft Republicans, who appear to be precious few hereabouts, shouldn't be too harshly either going to get out and beat the shell of the ten days.

They should remember that if Roosevelt had been nominated and the party machinery acquired by its progressive elements, in all probability they would be doing exactly the same thing.

THIS IS FOR YOU!

When you want a tenant for your vacant room, tele-phone a good ad to The Herald, one that will bring quick results. Here is an example of an ordinary ad:

"FOR RENT - FURNISHED ROOM for gentleman; good location. Tele-phone Blank 243 X."

Here is a different kind of an ad—one that TELLS SOMETHING:

"FOR RENT—NICELY FURNISHED room for gentleman. East end, modern home, private, every convenience; use of telephone; one minute from car line, 12 minutes from Third avenue west; $3 per week. Blank 243 X."

Costs a little more than the ordinary ad. Yes: but in nine cases out of ten the results are so much better and quicker that it pays in the end.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

YOUNG MEN. BUSINESS MEN. PROFESSIONAL MEN.

Are you of the class that looks upon your rich or well off neighbor with envy? Do you wonder whether it's your lack of brains or capital that holds you back?

> IT ISN'T NECESSAR-ILY EITHER. OFTEN IT'S THE LACK OF OPPORTUNITY.

A word of explanation before we proceed farther: We have no highly engraved stock certificates to sell you, nor have we a plan that will make you independently rich. But what we propose is that you send for full information regarding the opportunities in

IRONTON.

Ironton at present is only a village just as Hibbing, Virginia and Chisnolm were a few years ago.

IRONTON

has more advantages for a faster growth than any of the above mentioned towns. Remember that's where the quick and large profits come from. The following news item is taken from The Duluth Herald of May 13, 1912:

IRONTON SOM' MINING TOWN Four Mines Tributary to Village and Three Shipping

Immense Ore Body Stretches for Mile and Underlies

the Townsite.

By all odds the biggest ore body yet discovered on the Cuyuna iron range underlies the Ironton and stretches for a distance of a mile. It extends to a depth, so far as known, of 650 feet and may be much deeper. To mine this immense ore body four concrete shafts, costing $500 a foot have been completed. Armour No. 1 is down 330 feet. One mining level is at 200 feet and the bottom level at 300 feet. It has been proved up to a depth of 650 feet. It includes only one forty, but the ore body is big and rich. The ore being shipped at this shaft and from Armour No. 2 averages 55 per cent. The iron contents of the ore increase with depth in these two shafts. Armour No. 2 is down 200 feet and a level has been opened up at 168 feet. The ore has been proved to a depth of 600 feet. The mine embraces eighty acres. Armour Nos. 1 and 2 both have steel shaft houses. The Meacham shaft is 250 feet in depth. It has one sub-level at 125 feet. The Meacham's ore body has been proved to a depth of 650 feet. The mine covers eighty acres.

In addition, and since the above was printed the N. P. has commenced the building of a spur track into Ironton, which will be completed within ninety days,
